NEW LOCAL LEAGUE FORMED; McNAMARA ELECTED PRESIDENT

The second industrial league met last evening at the Boys' Club and elected Thomas McNamara, manager of the Star Shirt Co. team, president, and William Lundberg, secretary. The league will play its first game Monday evening at which time the schedule, which provides for fifteen games for each team, will be passed upon. The regular season will open Saturday, June 6. It is expected that under the leadership of Mr. McNamara the league will prosper as he has had considerable experience in baseball. Two seasons ago he had the Star Shirt team in the regular industrial league, which although it was a poor team, was kept intact by his management and finished the season in a better condition than a number of the other teams. At present Mr. McNamara is an honorary member of the senior industrial league.

Manager Keppy of the Warner Brothers team, take notice. The Armstrong Manufacturing Co. have organized a baseball team for the season and would like to get a chance to take on the Warner Bros. team at any time. Answer through this paper.

Manager William Lundberg of the Locomobile Co. team says that his team has organized for the Junior industrial league and would like to play a game with the Warner Bros. team at any time. Answer through this paper.

The Fairfields are in the field this season with a team, which they claim will do honor to the old burg. They are in need of a game for Good Friday. The first game, first served. Line up: George Bonney, c.; captain; Oscar Nelson, p.; Percy Parnly, 1b.; John Swaine, 2b.; John Collins, 3b.; Fred Gibson, ss.; Fred Odell, rf.; John Welch, cf.; Arthur Bennett, lf.

The Brookside Juniors will practice Sunday, at 9:30 o'clock at the Union avenue grounds, when the following players are asked to be present: Wells Kelly, Casserly, Trelease, Hogue, Hegarty, Flanagan, Winter, Sandway, Zaks, Brady, Blackman and Anderson. This team would like to play the Lincoln, Sunday at 10 a. m. at the East End freight yards. Answer through the Farmer.

Weather Indications.

(Special from United Press.) New Haven, April 2.—Forecast: Cloudy tonight; Saturday showers. A slight barometric disturbance central in the Mississippi valley, is producing cloudy weather and showers in that section and in the western portion of the Lake region. Another disturbance on the south Atlantic coast is producing cloudy and drizzly weather from Virginia to Florida. Pleasant weather prevails in other sections east of the Rocky Mountains. The temperatures are rising slowly in the central sections.

TEAM FOUND BUT DRIVER MISSING

E. P. SANFORD OF REDDING RIDGE ASKS POLICE TO FIND CHARLES P. TAYLOR.

The Bridgeport police have been asked to find Charles P. Taylor, who was employed by E. P. Sanford, a butcher of Redding Ridge. Tuesday afternoon Taylor drove to this city in his employer's team. The team was picked up and returned to its owner. But up to noon to-day nothing has been heard of Taylor.

He had been with Mr. Sanford since last October, and as far as his employer knew was a man of steady habits. At one time he was connected with the Bridgeport Young Men's Christian Association.

Mr. Sanford fears that his man met with an accident or foul play, but there was no record of either at the police station or at the emergency hospital. The fact that the missing man was a man of good habits makes the case all the more peculiar.

Puritan Specials.

Tomorrow at the Puritan, 199 Fairfield avenue, an exceptional bargain is offered as a Saturday special. Fine chocolate peppermints, those usually sold for 40c per pound, will be sold at almost half price, 21c per pound. This price is less than the wholesale price—therefore it is the purchaser's gain. Coconut butter cups, made today, will be sold tomorrow for 11c per pound, and the third special is plain molasses taffy for 8c per pound, reduced from 12c. It should also be remembered that all candies sold by the Puritan are made on the place.

CANNOT FORGET CITY OF BIRTH

Callan Hears Minstrel Sing "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and Remembers Boyhood Home.

"Christie" Finnegan Gets Letter From East Side Native Filled With Reminiscences of Youthful Days—Man Who Wrote Tender Song Now Lives on Farm in Monroe.

An old Church street boy, born and raised in this city is the editor and proprietor of the Pittsburg Kansan. He is Dr. J. F. Callan. Across the top of his newspaper is printed, "Only Democratic newspaper published in Crawford." He and Policeman Chris Finnegan were pals when they were kids.

Chris had not heard from the editor of the Kansan until yesterday, when he received from him a letter which had been prompted by recollections of Bridgeport caused by a minstrel singing, "Silver Threads Among the Gold." In the letter the writer supposes that Arthur W. French, the author is dead, not being aware that the little man who wrote more song hits in its time than any other song writer, is now living on a farm in Monroe.

The letter written by the Kansan's editor will be of interest to old Bridgeporters, particularly those of East Bridgeport. He explains why it is that when one is once a Bridgeporter he is always a Bridgeporter.

He says: "Dear Old Schoolmate: A few evenings ago I heard a minstrel singing, 'Silver Threads Among the Gold,' at a local theatre. The song carried me back to Bridgeport, where the author, Arthur French lived and I guess, died. The day following I got a copy of a Bridgeport paper and saw in it a round faced copper that was labeled 'C. Finnegan.' Had I written the article I would have had to label it 'Christie' Finnegan. No other title would seem right to an old 'East Side'.

The last time we met we were in a gondola at the Pan American Exposition in Buffalo and we went over old times as you will remember. "I believe it can be truly said 'Once a Bridgeporter Always a Bridgeporter.' For 30 years I have traveled all quarters of the world, crossed both oceans and the equator twice, but I have never reached a point where my interest in news from 'old Bridgeport' ever lagged. If no other source there always remained Barnum's circus and I could always find someone who had seen that, and that tender tie made the stranger a friend of mine.

"I doubt very much if the present generation will have the same tenderness of thought, that we of the old school have. We were a family of homes with every door in the neighborhood open to every man, woman and child in the neighborhood. The recollection of those happy days sometimes brings moisture to my eyes when I think it over, and the prayers, God Bless Old Bridgeport and the old Bridgeporters comes bubbling to my lips.

"You have my best wishes Christie and I hope some day to see old Bridgeport and you again.

Yours,
J. F. CALLAN."

STRATFIELD ASKS FOR EXEMPTION

IT IS CLAIMED THAT FIREPROOF HOTEL SHOULD NOT BE REQUIRED TO CARRY ROPE FOR FIRE ESCAPES.

The construction of the Hotel Stratfield in this city has raised a question for the General Assembly to deal with. It is now the law that hotels must provide fire escapes. Usually a rope is provided for each room, suitably knotted so that a descent may be effected by it hand over hand. In some cases the rope passes through a mechanism which regulates its downward movement. These escapes are unsightly and the Stratfield, with the Hotel Elton, Waterbury, are anxious to have the law changed to exempt fireproof structures. Senator Luther of Hartford is the chief opponent of the measures. He deems that there is one fireproof building in the United States. The bill granting the exemption has been favorably reported by the Committee of Public Health and Safety of the General Assembly.

MIDDLEBROOK MAY RECOVER

MAN WHOSE SKULL WAS FRACTURED BY FALL ON HOTEL FLOOR IS CONSCIOUS AND RESTING COMFORTABLY.

Stanley M. Middlebrook of New York, who fell on the tiled floor in the Stratfield Hotel, yesterday, has regained consciousness and it is thought that he may recover. He was resting very comfortably at the Bridgeport hotel this afternoon. The fracture is at the base of the skull.

Middlebrook is a traveling representative of the H. W. Caldwell & Son Company, engineers, foundrymen and machinists, of Chicago.

PRICE OF ICE WILL GO UP

This Fact Appeared Prominently in Discussions of Ice Dealers' Association.

About the only fact of a public nature that stood out prominently at the meeting of the Connecticut Ice Dealers Association, yesterday, was that the price of ice will certainly be raised this summer in all Connecticut cities. It was said that Westport is the only town in this locality which has harvested a full crop. Harry W. Walker, of the Naugatuck Ice Company, reported 14,000 tons in the houses, when there should be 32,000. A representative of the Sprague Ice Company said that they had 4,000 tons instead of 6,000. The old officers were re-elected as follows: President, Dexter L. Bishop, of Meriden; vice-president, John H. Ford, Norwich; secretary, M. K. Pickett, of Ansonia; treasurer, H. B. Sherwood, of Southport.

Gentleman's Country Place or for Private School or Sanitarium.

This property at South Norwalk is centrally located in the residential part of the town on one of the most beautiful avenues in Connecticut.

The house is a large mansion, surrounded by a well kept lawn, grounds 1 1/2 acres in extent with shade trees and is approached by granite steps and asphalt walks. It sets from fifteen to twenty feet above the level of the side-walk and back about seventy-five feet. Faces on West Avenue with a frontage of 137 feet.

The house is a frame building, two and one-half stories high with slate roof, dimensions 50x50 feet with an extension 24x30 feet. It is two stories high, has deep porches and 18 rooms.

The first story is twelve feet high and the second story is ten feet high. The rooms on the first floor consists of reception hall, parlor, library, reception room, dining-room, kitchen, laundry, butlers' pantry, pantry and two rear halls, all hard wood trimmed. Folding doors enable the house to be thrown into one room.

The second floor consists of two parlor bed-rooms, four bed-rooms, nursery and bath. In all of the bed-rooms, there is hot and cold water supply.

In the attic, there are four large rooms, two of them finished off for sleeping apartments, also a large tank, which the city supply empties into in order to keep the water pressure off the plumbing work.

The house is heated by hot air, thoroughly furnished and will be sold with furniture as it now stands, if so desired, with the exception of clothing, personal pictures of family, bric-a-brac, silver and crockery ware.

There is a large stable 40x50 feet, facing on side street with carriage approach. The stable has two box stalls, two stalls, harness room, washing room, carriage room with water supply and hay loft with grain bins and room finished off for coachman.

There is also a good sized yard, chicken house, outside closet, apple, pear and cherry trees, rose garden and ample lawn; also garden amply large to raise vegetables for table use.

The house is surrounded with elegant residences with kept lawns and is one of the most desirable places in South Norwalk, within eight minutes walk from the depot, same from the Post-office and from two to five minutes from all the churches.

South Norwalk is 43 miles from New York on the N. Y., N. H. & Hartford Railroad, or one hours ride from 42nd Street Depot.

I will be willing to exchange this place for cash or take in payment, some property in Bridgeport.

One thing more I will add. There are splendid private schools in the City of South Norwalk for the education of children; also public schools and splendid country drives.

COTTON MILL GIRLS GO OUT ON STRIKE

THREE HUNDRED QUIT WORK AT LAWTON MILLS IN PLAIN.

(Special from United Press.) Plainfield, April 2.—Three hundred employees of the Lawton cotton mills which comprises the entire force in the ring spinning department, went out on strike today. The trouble had its inception yesterday when a dozen of the female employees of this department objected to cleaning some parts of the machinery, claiming the work is dangerous and should be attended to by the men. When their complaints were heeded they promptly struck and their action was duplicated today by their fellow employees.

The strikers are all members of the local Weavers' Union, which is a branch of the National Textile organization. John Golden of Fall River, Mass., president of this organization, and Samuel Ross of New Bedford, secretary, are expected here late today to investigate the trouble and possibly effect a settlement.

In the absence of Harold Lawton, the superintendent of the mills, no statement has been issued by the factory officials.
